ESS: 2019 Application

Intended Outcomes

Upon completing ESS, participants will be able to employ tools and skills learned to:

- Discuss philanthropy's role in the social change ecosystem
- Identify legal and ethical issues
- Explore how program officers come to funding recommendations
- Communicate effectively as directors and program officers
- Discuss evaluation and learning methods used in philanthropy
- Recognize variables that help or hinder capacity to maximize grant impact
- Apply reflective practice in their philanthropy careers, which includes:
 - A personal strategy: how to recognize and analyze the interplay between role, self and the systems context
 - Relationship building: how to approach and grow relationships authentically, with colleagues in philanthropy and with grantees

* 6. What do you hope to get out of this program?

* 7. How do you see participating in ESS helping you to improve your effectiveness in your position?

8. Based on the learning objectives for ESS described above, please share any training or education that has built your capacity in these areas.

* 9. ESS is structured to provide an intense peer learning experience for a small cohort (about 25 participants). Please provide an example of how you have contributed to productive group work/peer learning environments in the past.
